Dear Mr. and Mrs. Silapabekung,

Probably you have a letter of Val telling about me. May I take this opportunity to write you and introduce myself since I will be coming to stay in your home for a few days on my return trip to Saigon, Viet-Nam.

Val and I were at Western and we know each other quite well by being neighbors in the same dormitory. I graduated last June and I am working at the Embassy of Vietnam in Washington D.C. Val told me you were in Washington last time when you came to the States.

On December 16th, I will be going back to Viet Nam (my country) via Europe. I always have wished to stop over Bangkok to visit the country. Val is nice to offer your house and her family to keep in touch when I am there.

Around the end of January (25th), I would like to visit Thailand. I would let you know my exact date of arrival when I get to ~~Paris~~ London.

Now I don't have the flight of the plane because I have not yet arranged my visa.

The only thing I would like to write is to thank you for letting me stay in your home when I arrive in Bangkok. I appreciate your generous hospitality and offer.

I would like to see Bangkok, visit temples and the Palace and buy some silk materials during my 4 days at your home.

Val has given me your phone and your address. I'll get in touch ^{with you} once I get to Bangkok.

If you have something to write me, please do to the following address: (I will stay here from December 16 to January 1st, 1967).
